"I neard more talk of a union among the people of Bulgaria than I did in Bulgaria. The question of a union was forced upon the Roumelians by increasing material interests and the burden of supporting two governments, which considerably oppressed the people. Besides industries were injured in Roumelia and sometimes totally destroyed by customs houses artificially dividing the frontier between Roumelia and Bulgaria, and the Pott's preventing and Bulgaria, and the Porte's preventing free trade between the two States. If the present state of affairs continues it will eventually make trouble in Europe. Russia is losing her influence in the Balkan States, and although the Bulgarians are grateful to Russia for gaining for them independence, they have since bitterly resented several attempts made by Russia to control the administration. I think the Bulgarians have a perfect genius for a ministration. While allowed their independence the Bulgarians would willingly ally themselves with Russic, but would ally with Austria against Russia rather than lose their independence. Political Water Again.

WILKEBBARER, Pa., Sept. 21.—An out-break similar to that of the Plymouth break similar to that of the Plymouth fever has made its appearance in Nanticoke for the past few days. It is reported late this evening that several families are stricken down with the disease. The majority of the cases are situated upon a hill near the town, which has always been considered the healthiest part of the place. The epidemic is said to be caused by the use of water poliuted in some unknown manner.

of Saturday and Sunday has been changed to one of bustle, activity and political wire pulling. The "Boocs," and there are many of them, are being pushed in the hotels, at the springs, on the streets and everywhere else. There is no concentra-tion of strength on any one candidate worth tion of strength on any one candidate worth chronicling. There have been about twenty-five names mentioned for the first place on the ticket, but of course the greater number of these will hot receive and do not expect anything more than a complimentary rote in the convention. The more praminest candidates are Alonso B. Cornell, Cornellus "N. Bliss, Ira W. Davenport, J. W. Dreyel, Joseph B. Carr, Levi P. Morton, James D. Warren, William H. Seward and James Wadsworth.

New York county is said to hold the key to the situation, and the city delegates are hard at work endeavoring to harmonize upon a candidate. This, if at all possible, will be accomplished to-night. A quiet movement is said to be on foot to make Colonel Fred Grant the nominee for Secretary of State.

Delegates fairly awarmed into town on the afternoon trains and the scenes about the hotals to-night is decidedly animated. At this bour, Il P. M., there is no change in the situation from that indicated earlier in the day than that Gornelius N. Bliss and Levi P. Morton have taken the lead leaving Cornella good third. While this is a fact it is apparent that Cornell blocks the way to reaching an amicable arrangement without considerable difficulty. And unless the said of the considerable difficulty, and unless without considerable difficulty, and unless without considerable difficulty, and unless without considerable difficulty, and unless the considerable difficulty and the considerable difficulty and unless the con it is apparent that Cornell blocks the way to reaching an amirable arrangement without considerable difficulty, and unless he can be gotten rid of by the iriends of the other two guildemen they will have hard work in carrying out their wishes. It is understood that Cornell holds a sufficient number of votes in the New York delegation to embarrass Bliss and Morton, and it is probable that this may necessitate the naming of Drexel or a new man. At midnight the Kings county (Brooklyn) delegation held a conference and appointed a committee to confere with the

New York county delegates, with a view to selecting a candidate upon whom both delegations could unite.

The State Committee met to night and decided to recommend the selection of Senator Warner Miller for temporary Chairman.

The New York county men adjourned their conference without uniting upon a ice candidate.

New York, Sept. 21.—The health offiers are making every effort to discover the source of a sudden outbreak of smallpox in a Grand street tenement and to stem it before it gains much headway. On Saturday night Wm. Owens, a child on Saturday night Wm. Owens, a child was found ill with the disease and removed to the hospital. Next door, yesterday, Mrs. Mary Radcliff was found covered with eruptions and also removed to the hospital. In Broadight to day, is Mrs. Guinn and her baby was found suffering from the disease and taken to the hospital. They lived in Grand street, this city, opposite the house occupied by the child Owens and the woman Radcliff.

Callaway says they must go within that time or psychietic own way if they go by railroad. His received a telegram to-day from President Adams, of the Union Pacific, from Boston, stating his, Callaways, course is approved by the Directory of the Company, which will back him to the last. Callaway now thinks there is little danger of a general strike.
